

Moral Science

Chapter 7 (Page 32)

A. Answer the following:

1. Why was Shibi Rana considered to be a kind-hearted king?

Ans. Shibi Rana was considered to be a kind-hearted king because he was prepared to even sacrifice himself for those who were weak.

2. Who decided to test the king?

Ans. Indra decided to test the king.

3. What caused eagle to become angry with the king?

Ans. King saved dove from the eagle, this caused eagle to become angry with the king.

4. What did the eagle demand instead of the dove?

Ans. The eagle demanded equal quantity of king's flesh instead of the dove.

5. Who were the dove and the eagle? Why did they come to the king's court?

Ans. The dove and the eagle were the forms of Indra, who came to the king's court to test him.

6. What was the reason for the king's tear?

Ans. The king shed his tear for the poor, weak dove whom he cannot protect even with his flesh.

B. Fill in the blanks:

1. Commitment is a promise to do some thing.
2. It is our responsibility to keep our words.
3. The king took the dove into his cloak.
4. The courtiers knew that the good king would keep his words.
5. A tear rolled down from the left eye of the king.

C. Write True or False:

1. The eagle decided to test the king. False
2. The eagle was wild with rage. True
3. The king cried in pain. False
4. The dove began to weigh more and more. True
5. The dove changed into Varun, a form of Indra. True
